Urology/Urological Surgery

Professor Damien Bolton

MD, PhD, BA, MBBS, FRCS, FRACS

Damien Bolton is Clinical Professor of Surgery at the University of Melbourne, Head of Department for Urology at Austin Health, and currently Vice President of the Urological Society of Australia and New Zealand. After completing urology training in Melbourne, he was a fellow then Assistant Professor at the University of California San Francisco, before completing his PhD on prostate cancer treatment.

He has particular interests in PSA testing and minimally invasive approaches to surgery, including performing over 1000 robot assisted prostatectomy operations, and in urinary stone disease. He is presently the lead Australian investigator in an international trial of pressure sensing ureteroscopy aiming to reduce the side effects of this procedure.

Professor Bolton also regularly undertakes genetic evaluation of patients with clinically significant prostate cancer to identify any potential familial risk.

As well as Kew, he has consulting rooms at Heidelberg, Mitcham and Knox.
